Books

Books that are entirely written by the same authors are cited using this format:

Last name, A. A., B. B. Last name, and C. C. Last Name. Year. Title of the book. Xth ed. Publisher Name, Place of publication. doi:xxxxxxxxxx

Example:

• Note: Use the information on the title page inside the book and the back of the title page.
• You do not need to include the edition number of the first edition.
• Include the DOI only if available.
Authors

• Use all authors.
• List them in the order that they are listed in the article.
• Use the last name and all initials.
• The first author should be listed with last name first, a comma, and then the initials:
  • Johnson, L. B.
• All other authors should be listed with initials first and then the last name:
  • E. B. Venable
• Put a comma after each author’s last name except the last author.
• Connect the last author with the word and.
  • Scott, D. J., and W. H. Miller
Book Titles

• Capitalize only the first word of the title, the first word after a colon, proper nouns, the Latin genus name, and acronyms (e.g., IUCN).

• Italicize the names of genes and Latin words (usually the genus and species)

Examples:

• Equine dermatology
• Equine emergencies: Treatment and procedures
• The athletic horse: Principles and practice of equine sports medicine
Creating a Reference for a Article/Chapter within an Edited Book

Basic Format:

Last name, A. A. A., B. B. B. Last name, and C. C. Last name. Year. Title of the article/chapter. In: A. A. Last Name, and B. B. Last name, editors, Title of the book. Xth ed. Publisher Name, Place of Publication. p. x-xx. doi:xxxxxxxxxx

If the chapter is in the first edition of the book, you do not have to include an edition number.
List all editors, using this format: A. A. Last Name, B. B. Last Name, and C. C. C. Last Name, editors,
Articles (Chapters) within Edited Books

- Editors oversee the entire book
  - They edit the article/chapters, but the articles are usually written by other people
  - Editors are listed on the title page of the book with the title of Editor
Articles/chapters are usually written by different authors.

Chapter authors are listed at the beginning of each chapter.

They may also be listed on the Table of Contents (the list of chapters in the front of the book).

Page numbers of the chapter are included in the reference.
